The attention of the citizens of Canyon City is again called to the fact that the running at large of hogs in Randall county is illegal, and if parties allowing their hogs to run on the streets and depredate on their neighbors are compelled to pay for such trespass, they can not say that they have not been warned.

Anderson wants to sell you dry goods and groceries.

Reuben Stringfellow and Homer Faulkner went to Amarillo Saturday.

Miss Eva Wright, sponsor for Camp Stonewall Jackson, writes that she wants forty voices in her choir for the reunion. Mr. Wilson, Mrs. Overhuls, Mrs. Kenyon and others are practicing regularly.

Mrs. Gorman and Mrs. George Smith, of Amarillo, visited Mr. A. L. Anderson's family this week.

Mrs. John Rowan and daughter were in town this week.

I very kindly and respectfully request all who frequent the dam south of town to please not pass through my place but go west of my house a few steps, thence south and they will be on grass land all the way.

A MOST ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Ice Cream Was Present

Last Saturday evening Mess. Gunn, Lewis, Pipkin, Stephenson, Coffee, Gorman, Henderson, Epps, Robeson, Reid, Weir and Richardson, accompanied by Misses Gyp Holland, Mary Burrow, May Lair, Claudie Taylor, Willie Vigus, Dixon Lair and Miss Bordie loaded into a hay wagon and went out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Service. The wagon bed was little bit crowded but all seemed to enjoy the ride. Messers. Burrow and Galbraith, being rather partial to themselves, procured a delivery wagon and went alone. Mrs. Service and Miss Onus spared no pains to make the evening one long to be remembered as the most enjoyable of the season. Ice cream and cake also did its best. Quite a number of Umbarger young folks were present. They were:

Misses Cotchel, Miss Brown, Miss Ada Redfearn, Miss Bessie Smith and Miss Ona Long.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Service and Mrs. J. I. Campbell.
Messers. Houser, Cotchel, Brown, Service and others whose names we failed to learn.

Hands up!

Messers. Lester Henderson and Elmer Gorman went to Hereford Sunday.

Miss Mamie Jackson visited the family of Mr. H. E. Hume the first of the week.

Jim Redfearn came home Saturday from Mineral Wells, where he has been for his health. He is wonderfully improved.

SCANDALOUS CHAS., artistic house and sign painter, paints anything from a barn to a portrait.

We are informed by Mr. Park that should the good people of Randall county see fit to elect him to the office of county judge he will move into town to reside.

Don't forget that A. L. Anderson wants your trade. He sells dry goods and groceries and is in a position to treat you right.

A Kaffir Corn Diet for Calves.

Twenty head of grade Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus calves were purchased by the Kansas experiment station during April and May a year ago. The feed of these calves was gradually changed to skim milk with as much grain as they would eat, composed of a mixture of whole and ground kaffir corn. It was found that the calves would eat the ground kaffir corn when from ten days to two weeks of age and would begin to eat the whole kaffir corn when from three to four weeks old. On June 19 these calves were divided into two lots as nearly equal as possible, the lot to receive ground kaffir corn weighing 1,570 pounds or 157 pounds to each calf and the one to receive whole kaffir corn weighed 1,577 pounds or 157.7 pounds a head.

Each lot was fed all the skim milk, grain and hay they would eat without scouring. The roughness for both lots consisted of prairie hay only until the calves were twelve weeks old. Alfalfa was then added gradually and for a time constituted one-half of the roughness and later supplanted the prairie hay altogether. Fresh water and salt were available at all times. For the 112 days under experiment, these ten calves consumed 14,788 pounds of skim milk, 1394 pounds of ground kaffir corn, 2381 pounds of prairie hay, 125 pounds of alfalfa hay. The total gain of the lot during the experiment was 1,580 pounds or 1.41 pounds daily for each calf. With skim milk at fifteen cents per cwt, grain at fifty cents per cwt—plus three cents a bushel or six cents per cwt for grinding—and hay at $4 a ton, the feed-cost of raising these calves amounted to $47.37 or $4.73 a head. The cost per cwt of grain is as follows: Skim milk 1.40, grain $0.49, roughness $1.10; total $2.99.

The second lot of calves consumed 14,620 pounds of skim milk, 1,941 pounds of whole kaffir corn, 2,381 pounds of prairie hay, 125 pounds of orchard grass hay and 5,982 pounds of alfalfa hay. The total gain was 1,406 pounds or 1.26 pounds daily for each calf. The feed cost amounted to $47.09 or $4.70 a head. The cost per cwt of grain was as follows: Skim $1.56, grain $0.58, roughness $1.20, total $3.34. Comparing the two lots it will be noticed that the whole kaffir corn lot consumed 267 pounds more grain but 240 pounds less of alfalfa hay and made 74 pounds less gain. There were a large number of grains in the case of the whole kaffir corn lot that passed through the calves undigested.

This experiment indicates that better and more economical gains are made from ground kaffir corn than from the whole grain. Nevertheless, if a man is so situated that he cannot grind kaffir corn, very fair gains can be made with the whole seed. Again, it is possible to feed the ground kaffir corn the first two or three months and then gradually change to the whole. The weekly weights and gains show that the calves receiving whole kaffir corn gained nearly as well the last five weeks of the experiment as those receiving the ground kaffir corn. It is best to feed ground kaffir corn until the calf is three or four months old, then if it is more convenient or economical the whole kaffir corn may be substituted.

J. A. Wansley & Co. have the largest shoe stock in town. Be sure to see them before buying any kind of shoes.

Messrs. Henderson and Gorman while returning from Hereford Sunday night ran into a wire fence. Mr. Gorman fell out and the buggy run over his neck. The first remark he made on getting up was "My collar's ruined" What it did to his neck we are not informed. The way this old earth has got of picking up roadsides and town lots and slamming a fellow with them in the dead hours of midnight is simply appalling. It is claimed by some that this extraordinary phenomenon is caused by too many stars around.

The Flight of Youth.

There are gains for all our losses, There are balm for all our pains; But when youth, the dream, departs, It takes something from our hearts, And it never comes again.

We are stronger and are better, Under manhood's sterner reign; Still we feel that something sweet Followed youth with flying feet, And will never come again.

Something beautiful is vanished, And we sigh for it in vain; We behold it everywhere, On earth and in the air, But it never comes again.
